

Chris Sommer Named Head Golf Professional at Ramsey Golf & Country Club

The Ramsey Golf and Country Club has named Chris Sommer their new Head Golf Professional following an extensive search by the Ramsey Golf & Country Club Search Committee. Sommer was previously an Assistant Golf Professional at Forest Hill Field Club for the past 3 years and served as its First Assistant Golf Professional for the last year. Sommer, a graduate of Rowan University, spent nearly 10 years at Bella Vista Country Club in Marlboro New Jersey.

Sommer was recognized by the New Jersey PGA in 2019 as the Assistant Golf Professional of the Year, an award that is given to an assistant who has shown outstanding service to the New Jersey PGA and to their facility.

When asked what it meant to be hired as the new Head Golf Professional at Ramsey Golf & Country Club, Sommer responded, "I am extremely excited to be chosen as the new Head Professional at Ramsey Golf & Country Club. I feel very fortunate to have the opportunity to work with the wonderful membership and staff at RGCC and continue to grow within the New Jersey PGA".

Rob Taylor, President of Ramsey Golf and Country Club, added, "We are excited to announce the hiring of Chris Sommer, PGA as our new Head Golf Professional of Ramsey Golf and Country Club. Thank you for joining me in welcoming Chris to Ramsey".
